Art Unit: 3748

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 13-15, 21, 26, 27, 33, 52, 54, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6407478 (Wood et al).

Wood et al disclose a MEMS actuator comprising a cold bar 114, spaced apart hot bars 116, 118, each having an anchor pad 122, 124, 126, a substrate, dielectric tether 128 connected the free ends of said bars. Figures 13-17 disclose the concept of using many MEMS actuators for actuating switches.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-12, 16-20, 22-25, 28-32, 34-51, 53, 33-37, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 6407478 (Wood et al). Wood et al discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 1, but does not disclose different types of materials of the dielectric tether, many dielectric tethers mounted along the bars, and many switching configurations. However, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to select different types of materials, providing many dielectric tethers and providing different switching configurations in Wood et al for the purpose of achieving appropriate work outputs.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hanson et al, Ellis, Kolesar, and Weaver et al disclose MEMS actuators comprising cold bar and spaced apart hot bars.
